Shree lives in an apartment in a small town called Katpadi Junction with her parents and her aunt Akka. Shree likes to play games on the computer. The computer doesn't just have games. It also has FriendsNet*. Shree joined it two months ago, on her thirteenth birthday. After lunch, she chats* with her school friends through FriendsNet.

One day Shree said on FriendsNet, "I got too much sugar with my tea."

One friend said, "That you get every day."

Shree said, "And I also got spicy* noodles* with my dosa* for lunch."

Another friend teased*, "Do you do anything other than eating?"

(1)Shree got angry. She decided to unfriend* them. Then, she missed them, but before she could tell them she's sorry, she got a new friend request*. It was from a girl called Chaitra. She was very pretty, like a movie star. Shree clicked* ACCEPT. One click, and they became friends.

Chaitra typed* "Do you have many friends?"

"No! And I lost a few friends today." She added a sad-face emoticon*.

"So what? It isn't important how many friends you have. And you have me now!"

Shree liked the sound of that.

"Where do you go to school?" typed Shree.

"Near your school," typed Chaitra.

"How do you know which school I go to?" wondered* Shree.

"Because (2)it is near my school."

"That's nice. Then we can meet," typed Shree.

Chaitra signed off*. "Yes! And we'll be best friends forever. Bye!"

The next morning, Shree looked for a school near hers. But she couldn't find one. (3)It was a little strange. But Chaitra was nicer than all her other friends. She was Shree's special friend and nobody else's friend.

(4)That day, she didn't eat lunch. Akka wondered what was wrong. "Are you feeling sick?"

"Too much school work," lied* Shree.

“Then go and finish your homework,” said her aunt.

But Shree didn’t do her homework. Instead*, she started the computer, went online* and waited for her new friend.

Soon she got a message from Chaitra. “Hello, friend. ( 5A ) are you today?”

“I’m fine, but I didn’t eat my lunch,” typed Shree.

“( 5B )?” typed Chaitra.

“Because I wanted to talk to you,” typed Shree.

“Great. Now can you send me a selfie*? And give me your number so I can call you,” typed Chaitra.

“I don’t have a camera phone,” typed Shree and felt sad.

Chaitra offered* to give Shree her old camera phone. “( 5C ) meet on Sunday. Then I will take your picture. And give you my old phone.”

Shree had always wanted* a phone with a camera. She typed, “( 5D ) shall we meet?”

Chaitra typed, “Come to the railway* station.”

Shree asked, “( 5E )?”

Chaitra decided, “When the Bengaluru train reaches there.”

Just then, Akka came into the room to clean it.

“What are you doing, Shree?”

“( 6 )”

Akka looked over Shree’s shoulder* at Chaitra’s profile* picture.

“But that’s the movie actress I like so much, Madhoo. She’s your friend?”

“Yes, but her name is Chaitra.”

(7) Akka laughed. “That’s Madhoo, I’ve seen all her movies. She must be so old now.”

“She’s the same age as me!” said Shree.

“No, no, she’s as old as I am,” said Akka. “That picture was taken when she was still in school. It is from her first movie.”

(8) Shree was angry with Akka, then stopped to think. Was Chaitra using someone else’s picture—a movie star’s?

“How old are you?” she typed.

“I told you I’m thirteen, the same age as you,” Chaitra typed back.

Shree replied*, “That is good. Best friends should be the same age.”

“Hey, the earrings* in your profile picture are so pretty!” typed Shree.

“Thanks, I made them myself.”

“Wow. Wear (9)them when we meet tomorrow!”

“Okay, but please come ( 10 ),” said Chaitra.

“Why?” typed Shree.

“Because I am coming alone too! To our secret* meeting!”

When Shree was typing ‘Okay’, she remembered something. “Hey Chaitra, I haven’t seen any other school near our school.” But Chaitra had gone offline*.

Shree was very confused and couldn’t focus* on her homework.

“Akka?” she asked.

“Yes, my dear,” said Akka, “what is worrying you?”

Shree decided to be honest* and told her all about her new friend.

“Akka, what should I do?”

The next day, Shree and Akka reached the station much before the arrival* of the Bengaluru Express. They had a secret plan.

Akka said, “I will go and talk to the station manager* so he can help us.”

The train from Bengaluru was coming in. Shree looked all around. “Where did Akka go?” She couldn’t see her anywhere.

Many passengers* came out of the train. No one looked like Chaitra.

A man who was her father’s age walked toward* Shree.

He was smiling. “Hello Shree!” Shree was ( 11 ). She didn’t know him. “It is so nice to see you!” he said.

“Who...who are you—you are not Cha...Chaitra!” said Shree.

“No. But I am an uncle and would like to be your friend, Shree. I like to make friends with young girls,” said the uncle-who-is-not-Chaitra.

“Eeeeeeee!” cried Shree. Akka was beside her in a second, along with the station manager.

The uncle-who-is-not-Chaitra was surprised.

Akka hit him with her handbag*. Then she yelled*, “Don’t you dare* come near my niece*!”

“Owww!” he cries.

Just then the train moved. He ran towards a train door. The station manager rushed* forward to catch the man. But he disappeared into the crowded train.
